

What is claimed is:

1. An software that is useful for mobil devices that have GPS (global positioning Satellite) and internet conection for search of singles.

2. An software according to claim 1, wherein the user sends a requests to

The server with data that contains reference of their actual position GPS , radius selected in (yards or miles) and gap of age.

3. An software that is loaded in the server where all the data of each member is register including their actual position with use of GPS(global positioning satellite)

4. An software according to claim 3 ,wherein the return of the request is the Data of singles in the area .